

INSIGHT

Apply to Jane Street's London INSIGHT Programme!

Our INSIGHT programme is part of our commitment to give as many people as possible the chance to learn more about what we do. In this multi-day programme, we invite self-identifying women and gender-expansive people to learn about the roles within our firm and how we solve challenges at Jane Street—including the specific concepts and tools we use in our daily work.

As you explore opportunities within the programme, you'll notice that event topics and locations will vary. We offer classes and activities in three separate tracks: software engineering, trading, and business development. We are excited to be planning to host this event in person from the London office, pending any changes or updates to Covid restrictions/guidelines. The INSIGHT programme does not require a prior knowledge of finance, only an interest in seeing what a career at Jane Street might look like.
